NAVRATRI CELEBRATIONS

EDITORIAL

October is a significant month as it often marks the culmination of the first term of the academic year with term-end examinations. Students and teachers put in their best efforts to prepare for and conduct these exams, striving for academic excellence. However, it's also a time when the festivities of Dussehra, a Hindu festival symbolizing the victory of good over evil, are celebrated. Balancing the academic demands with the cultural and spiritual significance of Dussehra can be a rewarding challenge, as it encourages students to manage their time efficiently and enjoy the rich traditions and values associated with the festival. It's a time for students to not only excel academically but also imbibe the lessons of courage, righteousness, and the triumph of virtue, which Dussehra embodies.

NAVRATRI CELEBRATIONS

Message from
The COO

NAVRATRI
CELEBRATIONS

COO
Ms. Shikha Srivastava

Dear Students, Parents, and Teachers,

Taking a moment to reflect on the timeless message that has echoed through the ages—the triumph of good over evil.

In a world where we face numerous challenges and witness instances of injustice and wrongdoing, it's essential for us to remember that the light of goodness and righteousness always prevails. This message resonates profoundly during times like the festival of Dussehra, where we celebrate the victory of Lord Rama over the demon king Ravana.

The story of Dussehra teaches us that even when confronted with seemingly insurmountable darkness, courage, determination, and unwavering faith in our values can lead to triumph. It reminds us that evil may be powerful, but it is temporary, while goodness endures.

As a school community, we are committed to nurturing not only the intellect but also the character of our students. We strive to instill in them the values of integrity, compassion, and empathy. It is through education that we empower our students to be the bearers of light in a world that sometimes seems shrouded in darkness.

The triumph of good over evil is not a one-time event; it is a continuous journey. It requires us all to be vigilant, to stand up for what is right, and to support one another in our pursuit of a better world. In our school, we encourage our students to be the champions of justice and advocates for positive change, both within our walls and in the larger community.

Let us take inspiration from the symbolism of Dussehra and recommit ourselves to the cause of good. Let us continue to work together to create a school environment that embodies these values and equips our students with the tools they need to make the world a better place.

In closing, I extend my warmest wishes to each and every one of you on the occasion of Dussehra. May this festival remind us of the enduring power of good, inspire us to be agents of positive change, and reinforce our commitment to fostering a community of integrity and compassion.

Wishing you all a very Happy Safe and Prosperous Diwali.

Celebrating Diwali can be a joyful and festive time for families, but it's important to prioritize safety, especially when children are involved. Here are some parenting tips for a safe Diwali:

- 1. Supervision: Always supervise children during Diwali celebrations, especially when lighting fireworks or candles. Keep a close eye on them to prevent accidents.
 - 2. Safe Fireworks: If you choose to use fireworks, opt for safe and low-noise varieties. Sparklers, flowerpots, and aerial fireworks should be handled by adults only. Store fireworks in a safe and cool place, away from children's reach.
 - 3. Fire Safety: Keep a bucket of water or a fire extinguisher nearby when lighting fireworks. Ensure that there are no flammable materials or decorations nearby.
 - 4. Ear Protection: Loud fireworks can be distressing for young children. Use ear protection for infants and toddlers to protect their sensitive ears.
 - 5. Air Quality: Diwali can lead to poor air quality due to smoke and pollution from fireworks. Keep windows and doors closed to minimize exposure to smoke. Use air purifiers if available.
 - 6. Candles and Diyas: Place candles and oil lamps (diyas) out of children's reach to prevent burns and fires. Consider using battery-operated LED candles for safety.
 - 7. Rangoli Safety: If you make rangoli (colorful designs on the floor), avoid using materials that can be harmful if ingested, and make sure it's not in an area where children might accidentally step on it.
 - 8. Clothing: Dress children in cotton or fire-resistant clothing to reduce the risk of burns. Avoid loose and flowing outfits near open flames.
 - 9. First Aid: Have a first-aid kit on hand to treat minor burns or injuries. Educate your children about basic first-aid, like how to clean and cover small cuts and burns.
 - 10. Healthy Snacks: Diwali is often associated with sweets and snacks. Offer healthier alternatives like fruits and nuts to balance the indulgence.
 - 11. Teach About Safety: Talk to your children about the potential dangers of fireworks, candles, and open flames. Teach them to respect and follow safety guidelines.
 - 12. Pet Safety: Diwali can be stressful for pets due to loud noises. Keep them indoors, provide a safe and quiet space, and consider consulting your veterinarian for calming solutions.
 - 13. Limit Screen Time: Encourage children to engage in traditional activities, like storytelling or lighting lamps, rather than spending too much time on screens during the festivities.
 - 14. Eco-Friendly Celebrations: Consider celebrating Diwali in an eco-friendly way by using less plastic, reducing waste, and being mindful of the environment.
 - 15. Quality Time: Use Diwali as an opportunity to spend quality time with your children, explaining the cultural significance of the festival and creating lasting memories.
- Remember that safety should always be the top priority during Diwali celebrations. By following these tips, you can ensure that your children have a happy and safe Diwali.
