CELEBRATIONS ABOUND

EDITORIAL

September is a vibrant and culturally rich month in many parts of India, marked by a tapestry of festivals and celebrations. One of the most prominent festivals during this time is Ganesh Chaturthi, which celebrates the birth of Lord Ganesha, the elephant-headed deity of wisdom and prosperity. This joyous occasion involves elaborate processions, colorful decorations, and the immersion of Ganesha idols in water bodies, symbolizing his return to his celestial abode. Another significant festival is Janmashtami, which commemorates the birth of Lord Krishna. Devotees fast, sing devotional songs, and reenact episodes from Krishna's life with great enthusiasm. September also witnesses the celebration of Mahalakshmi Vrat, dedicated to the goddess of wealth and prosperity, Mahalakshmi. Devotees worship the goddess with devotion and perform various rituals to seek her blessings. These festivals, along with others, make September a spiritually significant and culturally vibrant month in India, fostering a sense of unity and tradition among its people.

"The greatness of a culture can be found in its festivals" ~ Siddharth Katragadda

I hope this message finds you all in good health and high spirits. As we embrace the changing seasons and the beauty that each one brings, it is heartwarming to witness the joy and enthusiasm that fills our school during this time of year. Festivities are indeed abound, and it is with great pleasure that I share some exciting updates with you all.

Our school has always been a hub of vibrant celebrations, and this year is no exception. We have been gearing up for a series of events and activities that will not only bring us closer together but also foster a sense of unity, understanding, and appreciation for the rich tapestry of cultures that make up of school. First and foremost, I would like to extend my warmest wishes to all those celebrating upcoming religious and cultural festivals. Whether it's Diwali, Christmas, Hanukkah, Eid, or any other cherished occasion, let us remember the values of love, compassion, and togetherness that these festivals embody.

In the spirit of promoting cultural diversity and mutual respect, we will be hosting a Multicultural Fair next month. This event will be a delightful opportunity for our students to showcase the customs, traditions, and cuisines from various corners of the world. I encourage everyone to participate and explore the richness of our global community.

As we look ahead, we must also reflect on the importance of gratitude and giving back. The holiday season is the perfect time to engage in acts of kindness and generosity. Our school will be organizing a food and clothing drive to support those in need, and I encourage everyone to contribute in whatever way they can.

Lastly, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to the entire school for your unwavering support and dedication. It is your enthusiasm, hard work, and collaborative spirit that make our festivities truly special. May this season of celebrations bring joy, peace, and unity to all? Let us cherish these moments together and continue to build a stronger and more harmonious school.

Don't worry about being successful but work toward being significant and the success will naturally follow. In an age where information flows freely and connections are forged digitally, there's a remarkable phenomenon that transcends the virtual world and bridges the gap between people: "Talk Takes". These compelling sessions, often hosted by seasoned professionals, motivational speakers, and thoughtful leaders, hold the potential to transform lives, ignite passions, and shape the course of the future.

"The Jain International School Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar" regularly organises "Talk Takes". One more session was organised in the school auditorium on 18/9/2023 on the topic "Entrepreneurship - A Mindset". Students were honoured to welcome the resource person Mr. Sankalp Pahade sir, a distinguished expert in the field of entrepreneurship. Sir addressed 8th, 9th and 10th grade students, providing invaluable insights into the process of entrepreneurship. During his engaging talk, sir emphasised the importance of self-awareness and understanding one's strengths, interests, and leadership skills. Sir also guided students on how to overcome the failures. Sir concluded the session by urging students to keep calm in crisis and lead the journey of life successfully. His interactive session encouraged students to reflect on their goals and consider the long-term implications of their choices.

Teachers' Day Celebration

Teachers' Day is a special occasion celebrated in schools around the world to honor and appreciate the hard work, dedication, and invaluable contributions of educators. It's a day when students and schools come together to express their gratitude to the individuals who play a pivotal role in shaping the future of the nation. This article delves into the significance of Teachers' Day celebrations in schools, highlighting the various ways in which this important day is commemorated.

Teachers are often referred to as the "architects of society." Their role in imparting knowledge, values, and life skills to students cannot be overstated. Teachers inspire, guide, and nurture the potential within each student, helping them grow into responsible citizens and contributing members of society. Teachers' Day serves as an annual reminder of the profound impact educators have on our lives.

The celebration of Teachers' Day in schools is a much-anticipated event. It is a day when the roles are reversed, and students take the opportunity to become teachers for a day. The students of grades 9 and 10 came to school as teachers, girls dressed in saree and boys in formals. The day began with an assembly conducted by students of grade 1 to 4 where students expressed their gratitude through speeches, poems, songs, and heartfelt messages. This provided a platform for students to acknowledge the relentless dedication of their teachers.

The students of grade 10 arranged a surprise teachers day celebration in our school auditorium. The event kicked off with a heartwarming assembly where students paid tribute to all the educators. Inspirational speeches delivered by students highlighted the remarkable qualities of teachers and their dedication to nurturing future leaders. The students of grades 9 and 10 presented an enthralling dance performance for our beloved teachers. Music has the remarkable power to convey emotions, thoughts, and sentiments that words alone sometimes fail to capture. A spectacular music performance was portrayed by our school music band. A small game was conducted during the event in which teachers were invited on the dais and they had to share some of their childhood memories.

The cake cutting ceremony on Teachers' Day is more than just a sweet treat. It's a symbolic gesture of unity, gratitude, and the recognition of the pivotal role teachers play in our lives. It's a moment when the entire school community comes together to celebrate the sweetness of knowledge the profound impact of teachers on our journey of learning and growth.

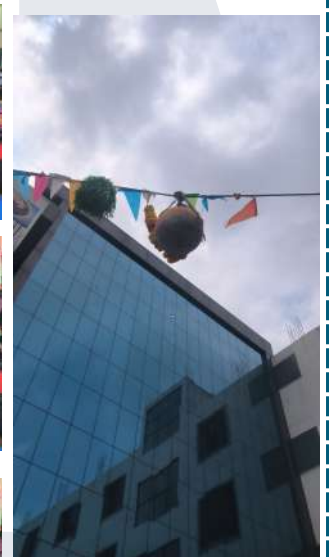

Teachers' Day celebrations in schools are not just about the festivities; they are a sincere and heartfelt way to honor the unsung heroes who dedicate their lives to nurture the minds and souls of the younger generation. It's a day of reflection, gratitude, and celebration, reminding us of the immeasurable impact teachers have on our lives and society. As we celebrate Teachers' Day, let us remember that every day is an opportunity to appreciate and support these dedicated individuals in their noble journey of shaping our future.

Krishna Janmashtami is an annual Hindu festival that celebrates the birth of Krishna, the eighth avatar of Vishnu. Krishna was born in the city of Mathura in north India. The moment of Lord Krishna's birth, which is said to have occurred at midnight, is the highlight of the festival. Temples are adorned with flowers and decorations, and idols or images of the infant Krishna are placed in cradles. At midnight, devotees break their fast, and there are grand celebrations, including singing, dancing, and reenactments of Krishna's childhood antics. On this wonderful occasion, The Jain international school Chatrapati Sambhajnagar celebrated Janmashtami in different ways for different classes. A captivating special assembly was held for students of class I to VII. A brief and importance about the festival was delivered through an article by a few students. Participants were dressed in traditional looks (girls as Radha rani and boys as Lord Krishna). Each pair of Radha krishna had ramp walked in the assembly showcasing the love of devotees and Radha towards Lord Krishna, A small skit on 'Lord Krishna's notorious acts' was presented. Students of class VII, VIII, IX and X also celebrated Janmashtami by a popular tradition called "Dahi Handi". Students formed human pyramids to reach and break a pot filled with curd, butter, and other goodies, which was suspended high above the ground. This reenacts Krishna's love for butter and his mischievous nature as a child. At last TJIS Ch. Smbhajnagar reminds us that, Janmashtami is not only a religious festival but also a cultural event that brings communities together to celebrate the life and teachings of Lord Krishna. It is a time of joy, devotion, and spiritual reflection for millions of Hindus around the world.

“Our language is the reflection of ourselves.

A language is an exact reflection of the character and growth of its speakers” - Cesar Chavez.

14th September marks the celebration of Hindi Diwas in India. It is a significant event for all the Hindi-speaking people throughout the country. This occasion aims to raise awareness about the importance of Hindi as one of India's official languages. To promote the Hindi language among the youth, cultural programs and competitions are held in schools and colleges on this day. It is an excellent opportunity to celebrate the diversity and richness of the Hindi language and its contributions to Indian culture. The purpose of Hindi Diwas, which is being celebrated across the country, is not to impose this language on non-Hindi-speaking states. It is to promote how important it is for us to know Hindi since, in the total population of India, more than half of the population speaks Hindi language. Our Hindi language is one of the ancient languages. Many words of Urdu, Persian and English have been derived from the words of Hindi. Hindi Diwas reminds us of our true identity and unites the people of the country. Hindi Diwas is a day that inspires us to have a sense of patriotism. Hindi Diwas is celebrated every year to emphasize the importance of Hindi and to promote it among every generation. The Constituent Assembly of India accepted Hindi, written in Devanagari script, as the official language of India on September 14, 1949. Officially, the first Hindi Diwas was celebrated on September 14, 1953. The reason behind adopting Hindi as one of the official languages was to simplify administration in a nation with multiple languages. Attempts were made by several writers, poets and activists for the adoption of Hindi as the official language.

The Jain International School organised a special assembly on this precious day. It was a great pleasure to have the Secretary of the Academic Council Dr. Mona Mehdi Ma'am and Jt. Secretary of Academic Council Ms. Lalitha Kosaraju Ma'am with us throughout the day. Students' Music Band performed a melodious song on Hindi Diwas. The dance group also performed a beautiful dance. The assembly was addressed by Dr. Mona Mehdi Ma'am and Ms. Lalitha Kosaraju Ma'am. Many students who had won were given medals and trophies for different sports in DSO competitions by Dr. Mona Mehdi Ma'am and Ms. Lalitha Kosaraju Ma'am. Both the dignitaries congratulated and appreciated the efforts of the winners.

Parent-teacher meeting is a perfect way to discuss the child's progress and exchange insights and thoughts about the child's developmental milestones and academic progress. We had our second PTM at The Jain International School on 9th September, Saturday. A comprehensive feedback about each student was given by all the subject teachers and the class teachers to the parents. There was mutual exchange of ideas and suggestions with an aim to work together to enhance the personality and academic performance of the students. The parents appreciated the smooth functioning of the school under the able guidance of our respected COO Ma'am- Mrs Shikha Shrivastava. They also expressed their gratitude and appreciated the efforts being put in by all the teachers towards the progress of their wards. Parents overall gave a positive feedback and were happy and grateful to the entire staff of the school.

Ganesh Chaturthi, also known as Vinayaka Chaturthi, is one of the most widely celebrated festivals in India, particularly in the states of Maharashtra, Karnataka, Goa, and Andhra Pradesh. It marks the birthday of Lord Ganesha, the elephant-headed deity who is revered as the remover of obstacles, the patron of arts and sciences, and the god of wisdom and intellect. The festival typically falls in the Hindu month of Bhadrapada, which usually falls between August and September in the Gregorian calendar. The preparations for Ganesh Chaturthi begin several weeks in advance, with devotees cleaning and decorating their homes and shops. Clay idols of Lord Ganesha, varying in size from a few inches to several feet, are crafted by skilled artisans. These idols are beautifully adorned with colorful paints, jewelry, and clothes. On the day of Ganesh Chaturthi, the idols of Lord Ganesha are installed in homes and elaborate temporary pandals (decorated tents or stages) set up in public places. The installation of the idol is accompanied by rituals, including the chanting of Vedic hymns and the offering of various fruits, sweets, and flowers. Aarti (devotional songs) are sung, and devotees seek the blessings of Lord Ganesha.

The most iconic feature of Ganesh Chaturthi is the grand processions or visarjan (immersion) ceremonies that take place on the final day of the festival. These processions are accompanied by music, dance, and enthusiastic devotees carrying the idol of Lord Ganesha. The atmosphere is filled with joy and devotion as people join the procession, offering prayers and dancing to traditional tunes. On the day of immersion, devotees bid a tearful farewell to the idol, which is then carried to a nearby river, lake, or the sea for immersion. This symbolizes Lord Ganesha's return to his heavenly abode. The immersion processions are spectacular, with thousands of devotees participating and creating a vibrant and emotional spectacle. Ganesh Chaturthi holds immense cultural and social significance. It promotes unity and brings communities together, as people from various backgrounds participate in the festivities. Additionally, it is an occasion for artisans to showcase their skills, as the creation of the idol is a form of art in itself. In recent years, there has been a growing awareness of the environmental impact of the festival due to the immersion of idols made from non-biodegradable materials into natural water bodies. Many efforts have been made to encourage the use of eco-friendly idols made from clay and other natural materials to minimize pollution. Ganesh Chaturthi is a time of immense joy, devotion, and celebration in India. It is a beautiful representation of the country's rich cultural heritage and spiritual traditions. The festival continues to evolve while retaining its core values of faith and community bonding. Whether you are a devotee or an observer, Ganesh Chaturthi is an experience that leaves a lasting impression of spirituality and unity.

INTERNATIONAL DAY OF DEMOCRACY

DEMOCRACY IS NOT JUST ABOUT VOTING; IT'S ABOUT ENSURING THAT PEOPLE'S VOICES ARE HEARD - DR. BABASAHEB AMBEDKAR

The International Day of Democracy is observed on September 15th each year to celebrate and promote the principles of democracy worldwide. Democracy, with its core values of participation, inclusivity, and accountability, remains a fundamental aspect of a just and progressive society. This day serves as a reminder of the importance of democracy in ensuring the voices of all individuals are heard and respected. The International Day of Democracy was established through a resolution passed by the United Nations General Assembly in 2007. The goal was to encourage governments and organizations to promote and uphold the principles of democracy. The date of September 15th was chosen to commemorate the anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in 1950 and the adoption of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights in 1966. Democracy is not merely a form of government; it's a way of life that values freedom, equality, and the protection of human rights. It provides a platform for individuals to participate in the decision-making process of their country, allowing for diverse opinions and perspectives to be considered.

While democracy stands as a beacon of hope for a better world, it faces challenges in various parts of the globe. These challenges include voter suppression, electoral fraud, unequal representation, and the rise of authoritarianism. In the face of these challenges, it becomes crucial to reaffirm the importance of democracy and work collectively to overcome them. The International Day of Democracy is a reminder that democracy is a collective responsibility. It is about empowering individuals, ensuring inclusivity, and holding governments accountable. Upholding the principles of democracy is crucial for achieving a more just, equitable, and peaceful world. On this day, we celebrate the progress made, acknowledge the challenges ahead, and recommit ourselves to the values that underpin a democratic society.

INTERNATIONAL LITERACY DAY

International Literacy Day is an international observance, celebrated each year on 8 September, which was declared by UNESCO on 26 October 1966 at the 14th session of UNESCO's General Conference. It was celebrated for the first time in 1967. Its aim is to highlight the importance of literacy to individuals, communities and societies. The theme of celebrating International literacy day is 'promoting literacy for a world in transition: Building the foundation for sustainable and peaceful societies'. Since 1967, International Literacy Day celebrations have taken place annually around the world to remind the public of the importance of literacy as a matter of dignity and human rights, and to advance the literacy agenda towards a more literate and sustainable society. Despite steady progress made across the world, literacy challenges persist with at least 763 million young people and adults lacking basic literacy skills in 2020. The recent COVID-19 crisis and other crisis, such as climate change and conflicts, have been exacerbating the challenges. On September 8th, 2023, the Jain International School celebrated International Literacy Day with great enthusiasm and a commitment to promote literacy and education worldwide. International Literacy Day is observed annually to raise awareness about the importance of literacy and to highlight the challenges that still exist in achieving universal literacy. The Jain International School took this opportunity to underscore its dedication to nurturing young minds and fostering a love for learning.

The Jain International School has always been at the forefront of promoting education and literacy. It believes that education is the cornerstone of personal and societal development. To commemorate International Literacy Day 2023, the school organized a series of events and activities designed to engage students and raise awareness about the importance of literacy.

- 1) Special Assemblies: The day began with special morning assemblies where students and teachers gathered to discuss the significance of literacy. The school's COO, Mrs. Shikha Shrivastava ma'am, delivered an inspiring speech, emphasizing the power of books and knowledge.
- 2) Reading Challenges: To instill a love for reading, the school organized reading challenges for students of all grade levels.
- 3) Storytelling Sessions: Storytelling sessions were conducted, featuring both teachers and students. This allowed students to showcase their storytelling skills, inspiring their peers to embrace the world of literature.
- 4) Book Donation Drive: Recognizing the importance of access to books, the school organized a book donation drive.
- 5) Literacy Workshops: The school also conducted literacy workshops for parents, focusing on techniques to support their children's literacy development at home.
- 6) Creative Competitions: Art and essay competitions were held, encouraging students to express their thoughts on the theme of literacy.

The Jain International School's celebration of International Literacy Day 2023 was a resounding success, showcasing its dedication to promoting literacy and education. By engaging students in various activities and involving the community, the school reinforced the belief that education is a fundamental right for all, and literacy is the key to unlocking a brighter future. The school hopes that its efforts will inspire others to join in the global mission of eradicating illiteracy and building a more educated and enlightened world.

Promoting literacy is a global responsibility. Literacy is the most basic currency of the knowledge economy. It is not a luxury; it is a right and a responsibility.

"Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever."

Let us remember: One book, one pen, one child, and one teacher can change the world.

"Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire."

Happy International Literacy Day!"

BIRTHDAY

Balancing academics with festive celebrations can be challenging, but it's definitely possible with some planning and discipline. Here are some parenting tips to help your child focus on academics during a month filled with festivals:

1. Create a Festive Schedule:

- Plan a calendar that includes all the festival dates and events.
- Allocate specific time slots for each celebration or activity so that your child knows when they'll be able to participate fully in the festivities.

2. Prioritize Academics:

- Communicate the importance of academics during this time. Explain that by staying focused, they can enjoy the festivals even more because they won't have the stress of unfinished assignments.

3. Set Realistic Goals:

- Break down academic goals into smaller, manageable tasks. This can make it less overwhelming for your child to tackle their schoolwork.

4. Create a Study Environment:

- Ensure your child has a quiet and comfortable place to study. Minimize distractions during their study time.

5. Time Management:

- Teach your child effective time management techniques, such as using a study planner or setting timers for study and break periods.

6. Plan Ahead:

- Encourage your child to work ahead on assignments and projects if possible, so they don't fall behind during the festive season.

7. Limit Screen Time:

- Set limits on recreational screen time. While it's important to enjoy festive shows and movies, excessive screen time can be a distraction from academics.

8. Encourage Healthy Habits:

- Ensure your child gets enough sleep, eats balanced meals, and engages in physical activity. These habits can improve concentration and productivity.

9. Use Festivals as Learning Opportunities:

- Incorporate the festivals into your child's learning experience. Explore the history, culture, and significance of each festival together.

10. Offer Rewards and Incentives:

- Provide positive reinforcement for good academic performance. You can use festive rewards or incentives to motivate your child.

11. Delegate Responsibilities:

- Share household and festival-related tasks with your child, teaching them about responsibility and time management.

12. Seek Support:

- If your child is struggling to balance academics and festivals, consider seeking support from teachers or tutors who can provide guidance and extra help.

13. Flexible Study Times:

- Be flexible with study times during the festival month. Allow your child to adjust their study schedule as long as they meet their academic goals.

14. Stay Organized:

- Help your child stay organized with school materials and assignments. Being organized can reduce stress and make it easier to focus on academics.

15. Lead by Example:

- Show your child that you prioritize their education by setting a good example. Demonstrate a strong work ethic and commitment to your own responsibilities.

Remember that balance is key, and it's important to allow your child to enjoy the festivities as well. By implementing these parenting tips, you can help your child manage their academics effectively while still participating in the joyous celebrations of the festival month.
