Our Alumni Speaks...

I joined JHCSKP back in 2009 and we were a class of five. The fondest memories of my childhood come from this place. I met my best friends here, got red and yellow cards from Sirisha madam (our then sports teacher), and was made Head Girl in grade nine. When I look back, I feel we lived simpler times. Our fears ranged from who was going to win today's water fight to finding curry leaves in Maggie. We would be given a piece of mind for loitering, but the same teachers took us in, missed their buses to get our basics right. They taught us till the last minute, right before our boards. They treated us like adults and gave us the freedom to make decisions and to question. At the end of the day, we were still exploring ourselves. From having wacky hairstyles to colouring them, from sketching over desks to making charts and projects in the most creative ways, our teachers accepted us. We danced on the streets of Manali and watched 'Kahaani' in Jaipur as part of School trips, and yet we were equally disciplined when needed. We worked hard towards getting good grades and listened to our teachers. I still remember my farewell and it was a sad-sad day. Jain was like my safe space, I think. The world, as I know it now, is not like that. I believe every child should experience all aspects of schooling whether it is to gain knowledge, understand the world or even go full out to do what the heart wants. After all, the key to life is experiences and this place gave me plenty.

The book "One More Step" is about the journey of the world's largest contingent of school students (25 Students) to the Everest Base Camp/ In this book, Dr.

Chandrashekar DP Sir shares about these quests to inspire and imbibe the values of discipline, dedication and determination in his students at JGI. He chose that harder way, the one that has ultimately proven to have more meaning, more victory and more glory. Along with Dr. Krishna Rao and Jaahnavi and 25 school students, Dr. Chandrashekar DP Sir took on the most significant journey of his life, the trek to the "Everest Base Camp".

My journey with this book has been emotional, inspiring and motivating. It was a great learning experience for me. I'm also amazed by seeing the courage and determination of the kids that are my age. They not only learned the values of discipline, dedication and determination but also imbibed in their personal life.

They taught me that, "It's not the mountains we conquer, but ourselves." It is one of the best books I have read till now and I would like to give it 5/5 stars.

The future starts when you start dreaming

"There is no greater power in heaven or on earth, than the commitment to a dream". By - Dr APJ Abdul Kalam

JHCS Kondapur celebrated its 13th Annual Day on the theme "Snoos Para Manana". Dreams for Tomorrow on a virtual platform. Headmaster G Mahesh welcomed the audience and thanked everyone to be part of the most important function of the school which reflected the spirit of togetherness.

He emphasized on developing qualities like teamwork, adaptability, leadership, confidence, determination, respect, and moral values in the students. He articulated about the pitch philosophy and spoke about the theme of the annual function, "Dreams encompass goals". They give life a purpose, direction, meaning, shape life, and give us a sense of control and hope. In JHCS, Kondapur students are motivated to think about their futures, set goals, and establish a systematic plan that can be executed during schooling. The annual report was presented by the Principal, Dr Manu Mehra highlighting the school's achievements and milestones in academic and co-curricular activities.

The chief guest Syed Iqbal who is the co-founder of the Padup Ventures and an advisor of Andar congratulated the students for choosing such a beautiful title - "Dreams for tomorrow". He emphasized the point that educators should shape the future of the students. The students should have the ability to seek knowledge. The students should open up their minds and dream for tomorrow. They should become employers and not employees. They should make the career change 5 to 6 times in their life. For secondary students, he spoke about three key objectives: to be technology focused and digitally literate, make India the happiest capital in the world and don't make a living, make a life.

He ended his speech with a quote by Winston Churchill, "You make a living by what you get. You make a life by what you give."

The CEO Dr Chandrasekhar DP addressed the gathering and said that technology has created equilibrium for all. It has created the world of tomorrow, dreams for all. Three mantras to remember are to have a routine and follow it, be physically and mentally fit, and read to gain knowledge. The address by the CEO was followed by a spectacular display of pre-recorded performances in the form of a cultural program by the students of JHCS Kondapur. The vote of thanks was delivered by the Head Boy Prem Naren.

IF I WERE GOD

If I were a God, I would help the poor and needy people. I would make the world pollution-free. I would develop sports facilities. I would help people who help others. I would give holidays to kids. I would not give them homework. I would make a chocolate world for everyone. I would give the ability to everyone to eat however much they want, and not become fat! I would make a school for witchcraft and wizardry like Hogwarts for eligible witches and wizards. I would reduce the school hours. I would make people intelligent the day they are born. I would make some people like Avengers who would save the world from all problems.

FARMERS

When there is no rain,
Farmers groan in pain,
And with unseasonal rain,
Their produce flood the drain,
But shouldn't we find a solution,
To stride over this miserable situation,
Some sort of emancipation,
So as to build a prosperous nation.

We should thank the Almighty for bringing Lata Mangeshkar into this world. She has entertained and inspired millions of people for many years. Students of grade II of Jain Heritage A Cambridge School, Kondapur paid homage to Bharat Ratna Lata Mangeshkar in the morning assembly. They started the assembly with a beautiful prayer "O Paalanhaare" by Lata, which is also a song from the movie "Lagaan". National Song Vandematram sung by Lata Mangeshkar was played in the assembly. Hamsikha enriched us with the life history of Lata Mangeshkar. It included information about her birth, parents, guru, the efforts she had put into her singing career, and how well she was renowned throughout India abroad.

All the students joined their hands and religiously sat and prayed for the departed soul. A two-minute silence was observed in the memory and honour of the legend. Shreyasi Malhotra of grade V sang a beautiful prayer song by Lata Mangeshkar.

The entire school prayed to the Almighty to grant peace to the departed soul and strength to the bereaved family members. Prayer lays hold of God's plan and becomes the link between his will and its accomplishment on earth. Amazing things happen, and we are given the privilege of being the channels of the Holy Spirit's prayer.
