“Construct your determination with Sustained Effort, Controlled Attention, and Concentrated Energy. Opportunities never come to those who wait... they are captured by those who dare to attack.”

– Paul J. Meyer

Determination is a positive emotional feeling that involves persevering towards a difficult goal in spite of obstacles.

Determination is an important factor in the overall success or failure of a person’s efforts. Unfortunately, determination is not something that comes easy to the majority of people. To be truly determined, a person must first be passionate about what they’re doing. The students explained how determination is an important factor in success and failure of a person. The students

Kritika defined the word "privilege" succinctly, providing a basic understanding by defining the word and describing the usage of it. Harshith expressed in words about how paramount and predominant human rights are through a thought. "Joy is found when you focus your energy on improving human dignity, human capacity and human values". We then wished our friends on their birthday to make it a special and a remarkable one as it comes only once in a year. Patriotism is not short, frenzied outbursts of emotion, but the tranquil and steady dedication of a lifetime. We then concluded our morning assembly by singing our national anthem as a symbol of paying respect towards our country.

Topic: International day for Epidemic Preparedness

“Emergency preparedness starts with you be prepared.”

The United Nations General Assembly designated December 27 as the International Day of Epidemic Preparedness in its Resolution on December 7, 2020. The impulse for designating this specific day was the experience with the unending and still uncontained coronavirus COVID-19 epidemic. A pandemic cannot be fought country by country. The world must come together. COVID-19 was a wake-up call.

The International Day of Epidemic Preparedness encourages sharing information, scientific discoveries and the best ways to handle outbreaks. Having good education about epidemics and advocating for them on local, national and global levels are important steps in stopping and dealing with epidemics effectively. This day is a great chance to realise how crucial it is to improve preventing epidemics by using the knowledge gained from managing them in advance. By increasing our readiness, we can quickly and effectively respond to any future epidemic that might happen.

The students of Class VI-B, of JHCS Kondapur, presented an insightful and motivating assembly on the topic "International Day of Epidemic Preparedness" on 27th of Dec 2023. The special assembly was anchored by Jeshta. Pledge was administered by Krithika. Word and thought for the day were articulated by Kimaya and Amrutha. An article was presented by Meeha. Hi Mona Madam,

Just wanted to share a quick word on the annual day event.

It's always an honour to be part of colourful event which conveyed the value of family and basic ethics of keeping away from unwanted mobile usage.

I appreciate for binding and delivering a valuable message using the annual day celebrations. Had fun watching all the colourful dances.

Also learnt a new word - Kintsugi, which is the Japanese art of putting the broken pottery pieces together using gold.

Congratulations to you and team for all the efforts.

Thank you

Book Review

“Harry Potter and the Philosopher’s Stone”

written by “J.K. Rowling”.

Recently I have read an interesting book. The name of the book is “Harry Potter and the Philosopher’s Stone “. It is written by a famous writer “J.K. Rowling”.

The book is about a fictional story which is written in the context of witchcraft and wizardry. Harry Potter a 10-year-old boy who went to a muggles school (normal school) was teased of being mystical and different in looks and appearance in comparison to other kids in the class. He was teased and bullied by his cousin brother Dudley and his friends. He lived in his Aunt Petunia’s house as his aunt told him that his parents died in a car accident. He felt as if he didn’t belong to this world until one day, he received a letter from Hogwarts saying he got an admission in the school of witchcraft and wizardry. The book later discusses Harry’s life after he went to Hogwarts and made new friends and the upcoming danger which awaited him.

I would recommend this book to those who love reading non-fictional books which has a bit of side comedy to it and is adventurous as well.

I would rate it a 10/10 for keeping me curious on what’s going to happen in the next series of the book.

NATURE

Nature is mighty,
Nature is strong,

Nature is beautiful all around!
When the flowers bloom and the seeds sprout,
The colours of nature fly about!

Nature is beautiful as well it is powerful.
When the sky is polluted by fireworks and pollution the beauty comes to an end,
So let us all protect our nature because nature is our friend.
